DEATH OF MRS. HUGH McINTOSH

A sad though not an unexpected death occurred on Monday morning, when Mrs. Hugh McIntosh was called to cross the great divide. Mrs. McIntosh had been in precarious condition for some weeks and it was realized that the end was but a matter of days.

Besides the husband, the deceased leaves a family of five boys, they being Cameron, Harry, Fred, Gordon and Kenneth. She also leaves her father, W. Ainlay of Lomond, a sister, Mrs. Dave Munro, and two brothers, Harry at Edmonton, and Wilbert at Lomond. Deceased, whose maiden name was Eleanore Emily Ainlay, was born at the town of Brussels, Ont., Feb. 2nd., 1879. At the age of twenty-two she and Mr. McIntosh were united in the holy bonds of matrimony and they took up their residence near Seaforth, till the time of their coming to Alberta in 1908-9. Mrs. McIntosh was favorably known throughout the neighborhood and recognized as a progressive and cheerful personality. She gave a good deal of time and effort to further the cause of the local U.F.W.A., and held the office of secretary-treasurer at the time of her demise.

The funeral held on Wednesday afternoon was very largely attended. Rev. Bell conducted the services at the house and at the cemetery. The pallbearers were Ed. Burne, Geo. Porter, D. A. Wilkinson, Robt. Wilkinson, Fred. Galbraith of Lethbridge, and Mr. Godkin of Majorville.

Meyer, 16 sheets; Mrs. Latter, 20 towels; Sadie Galbraith, 9 triangular bandages and 2 amputation socks; Mrs. Howell, 8 triangular bandages; Mrs. Whitner, 20 towels.

Last Friday night a public meeting was held in the hall, called by the Red Cross to gain support and gather funds to provide Christmas boxes for the local boys now serving in France. W. A. Teskey was given charge of the proceedings. J. H. Williamson and W. A. Macdonald each addressed the gathering on behalf of the Red Cross work and a subscription list was opened and generously responded to. A committee was appointed to further solicit donations and that their efforts were successful is evidenced by the list below. Another interesting feature of the evening was the final draw in the raffle of the horse donated to the Society by Wm. Hill of Kinnondale. 192 was the lucky number and this ticket was purchased by Frank Wilson, formerly of the Marshall & Wilson firm, but now located at Westward Ho!

The Amethyst Red Cross Society is advertising a chicken supper and bazaar to be held on Thursday, Oct. 14th. While it is proposed to hold this event in the Kinnondale hall, definite announcement as to the exact place will be made in the next issue.

An Advertisement by Charles Dickens

CHARLES DICKENS is one of the world's great teachers. Here is what he has to say in one of his books:

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £19.19.6—result, happiness. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £20.0.6—result, misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of Day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—in short, you are forever floored. As I am."

The saving of a part of one's income was always a good policy.

Prudent men and women have always maintained a margin of saving.

But to-day we must go farther in our efforts to save than ever before.

To-day it is a matter of the gravest importance that each Canadian seek ways and means to economize by cutting down expenditures for unnecessary things, saving the money he spends on things he could do without, so that when the Nation needs to borrow money he will be in a position to do his full duty.

There is war-shortening work waiting for every dollar that can be saved.

IF Charles Dickens were writing to Canadians to-day he would probably give us advice to this effect.

"My other piece of advice, Canadians, you know. No matter what percentage of your annual income you have previously saved, your efforts to-day should be to save more. The advantage of so doing is threefold. By the practice of economy you conserve the material and labor which must be devoted to the grim task before us; you cultivate the priceless habit of thrift; you gather more and more money to lend to the Nation for the prosecution of the war to a quick and certain Victory."

NOTES

In the States they have set out to fix the price of most of the necessities of life, such as staple groceries, clothing, shoes, etc. Why not in Canada the same?

o o o

The war news read good just now—but we have become so accustomed to the grimness of the past four years of struggle that it barely awakens our enthusiasm. It will take a lot more fighting to hammer down the Hun, but it looks nearer a finish every day.

The Victory Loan propaganda in our opinion dwells far too strongly on the patriotic spirit of the issue. To us it appears more like a gilt edge business proposition. Giving the people gilt edged security on negotiable paper at double the usual bank rate of interest loses the most of its patriotic flavor by the time it reaches our sanctum. To our mind it should be treated in the light of a very conservative investment. The idea of thrift is very commendable though, and the Victory Bond is a special incentive toward the saving habit. It is only a matter of good business to float our federal loans among our own people. What we as a nation owe to ourselves need never cause us embarrassment on behalf of our creditors. You who have a few dollars just sit down and figure the thing out. It's to your business interests to stand behind the government in the flotation of these loans—but as they pay a good rate of interest, don't over-inflate yourselves with the idea of patriotism. Buy a Bond!

A trip to Vulcan discloses extensive undertakings in the line of road work. But why tear up three and four miles at a time and imperil traffic till the entire job is completed.

Don't turn down the hospital solicitors. You may require its accomodation sooner than you imagine. It is a step in the right direction.

It would be too bad to spoil our fine weather by a snow storm.

The one thing we all admire in Lloyd-George is that we know where to find him. He acts definitely. He is no luke-warm weakling. He fights on like our splendid boys are doing despite the 25,000 casualties since August 6th.

Are you doing your part as well? Have you taken your stand on the thrift question? Have you definitely decided that out of your returns this year you will lay by such-and-such an amount for a Victory savings account?

If you have done nothing in the matter you are not of this Lloyd-George type. You have heard the call to bring your dollars into the service of the country when she calls. And having heard, you have not acted. Make the decisive move now. Start the fund at once!

TRAVERS' FIRST LYCEUM CONCERT

The first issue of the Lyceum shows will be given by the WARD WATERS COMPANY at Travers on Friday, October 25th.

This show consists of a "make-up" entertainer and two lady musicians, which makes a programme not only different but unusual in that it appeals to all ages and tastes in an audience. All the material used by this company, with the exception of some of the vocal numbers, is entirely original. The Company has been thoroughly coached and no expense has been spared in staging it. In all the programme the ladies are beautifully and becomingly gowned, and Mr. Waters has perhaps the finest set of character wigs owned by any character entertainer.

Mr. Waters gives two character sketches. The first "The Possum Trot Council" in which he impersonates the deaf, old clerk, reading the minutes; the mayor, who is the local undertaker and can't forget it; the town "constable", who 'ketches' 'em with his bare hands; the old retired farmer who is 'agin' everything and even 'agin' that, and the pastor of the village church, who desires 'pease' and a right to his place on top of the fence. The discussion as to whether or not to place three gasoline lamps on the Main street, while written for fun, brings out boldly certain local types, and has its lesson for the American community. All characters are given in make-up which is put on with skill and precision. There are no waits or breaks in the talk and the sketch moves rapidly and naturally to a laughable conclusion.

Mrs. Waters is peculiarly fitted to sing child songs and portray the kind of little folks whom all of us laugh at and love. She also whistles, making possible the whistling duets by Mr. Waters and herself.

Miss Edna Falk, among others, will use a group of Spanish songs in costume that add to the attractiveness of the programme.

As a finale the company presents a little play with music in which Mr. Waters impersonates an American veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, on his ninetieth birthday, Miss Falk his grand-daughter and Mrs. Waters his great-grand-daughter. This sketch has brought laughter and tears wherever it has been presented. It is patriotic without any flag-waving, and after seeing this sketch no one can doubt that from such ancestry and our splendid American past, that there will come an army that will "go over" over there.

This is the first of four shows which are being given and each of which will be better than the first. Get your season tickets early. Season ticket, admitting to all shows, adults $3.00, children $1.50, family ticket $6.00, with one dollar extra for each child. If tickets are purchased separately at each show they will cost $5.00. Be economical! Remember, this is war-time, and save the two dollars by buying your season tickets early.

CHURCH NOTES

On Sunday, Oct. 13th., the Travers Church will be opened for public worship with a special thanksgiving service. The community has long felt the need of a comfortable place of worship, and one especially set apart to the worship of God. We are now reasonably sure that that need has been met. It is for us to co-operate in such a way as to make our Church a live institution and a source of moral uplift to the community. The management found it impossible to complete the entire building this year, so they decided that the basement could be fitted up so as to be comfortable for the winter, and next summer they hope to be able to finish the main building. The services will therefore be conducted from now on every Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Thanksgiving services at the Lomond Church on Sunday evening. We are having bright services and want everybody to enjoy the church on Sunday.
